

An aerial photograph of a large, intricate green maze garden. The maze is composed of many narrow, winding paths of green grass, separated by slightly raised, light brown soil walls. The pattern is complex, with many loops and dead ends. The overall color palette is dominated by vibrant green and earthy brown tones. A dark blue rectangular box is superimposed on the right side of the image, containing white and green text.

Jan Pries-Heje and Per Svejvig (eds.)

PROJECT MANAGEMENT FOR ACHIEVING CHANGE

Roskilde
University
Press