

An aerial photograph of a large, intricate maze garden. The maze is constructed from vibrant green grass, with the paths and walls clearly defined by the pattern of the grass. The maze is set against a backdrop of a dark blue rectangular area that contains the book's title and authors. The overall image conveys a sense of complexity and navigation, which aligns with the book's theme of project management for achieving change.

Jan Pries-Heje and Per Svejvig (eds.)

PROJECT MANAGEMENT FOR ACHIEVING CHANGE

Roskilde
University
Press